EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

The application has been amended as follows:

Renumber the second claim 3 to be claim 21.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-21 are allowed. Regarding claim 1, the prior art does not suggest the connector assembly as claimed, including the combination of all the claimed elements, the combination including the second grounding shield of the first grounding member comprising a body portion and a vertical portion extending vertically from the body portion in said first direction and exerting a pressing force on the second grounding member in said second direction as claimed.

Regarding claim 18, the prior art does not suggest the connector assembly as claimed, including the combination of all the claimed elements, the combination including the plurality of wires extending through a first side of the first insulative housing in a first direction angled relative to said mating direction as claimed, the vertical portion covering a second side of the first insulative housing as claimed, and the second grounding shield assembly enclosing said second insulative housing as claimed, where the vertical portion of the first grounding shield assembly is releasably retained and engaged with the second grounding shield assembly as claimed.
